

Web Risk Manager Lands Ford Motor Company Account

Top rated Internet Property Risk Management Information System Company adds another Fortune 100 client

For Immediate Release

OAK BROOK, Ill./EWorldWire/March 30, 2004 --- Web Risk Management, Inc. with Aon/Schirmer Operations in Chicago landed Ford Motor Company as a new client. Web Risk Manager(TM) is now globally implemented in Ford's Risk Management and Fire Protection program.

Aon/Schirmer provides property engineering consulting, while Web Risk Manager assists with the management of that information worldwide.

Implementation of Web Risk Manager into Ford's systems was completed within months, attributable to the ease of setup, permitting training and implementation on a global scale within a short timeframe. Program startup was initiated in late 2003, with training and rollout continuing through the first quarter of 2004.

Managing critical property risk management data for clients with brokers and carriers has attained new heights within the hard property market. Despite signs of the property market softening, risk managers need a way to manage their data 365 days a year - more than for just the renewal period. Web Risk Manager allows management and direct interaction with data independently.

Web Risk Manager features a very robust library system and six modules that track key property information.

The Risk Pad rounds off the system as a heads up display page on key risk management items to track across the entire enterprise web system.

As many as 3 more modules are expected this summer. With input from client/industry steering committees in place, Web Risk Manager will feature additional tracking modules by the end of the year.

Web Risk Management spokesman EJ Zinnecker, Jr. stated, "The key to the success of our product resulted from listening to our customers and modifying product to meet their needs."

Web Risk Management works with large insurance brokers, insurance carriers, risk management consultants and direct with companies that need to address Sarbanes-Oxley act requirements.

Web Risk Manager is the leader in enterprise property risk solutions for large national and international companies. Web Risk Management, Inc. (www.webriskmanagement.com) is headquartered in Oak Brook.
