Digital Descriptor Systems, Inc. And Subsidiary Participate In 51st Annual ASIS Convention

For Immediate Release

SEA GIRT, N.J./EWORLDWIRE/Sep. 13, 2005 --- CGM Applied Security Technologies, a subsidiary of Digital Descriptor Systems, Inc. (DDSI) (Pink Sheets: DDSI), an industry leader that develops products for Homeland Security including Supply Chain and Criminal Justice markets, is participating in the ASIS International 51st Annual Convention being held in Orlando, Florida this week. General Colin L. Powell, USA (Ret.), former U.S. Secretary of State, participated as a keynote speaker in this show, considered to be the world's largest show dedicated to security.

"Our participation in this annual convention allows us to spotlight our security product line and our new and innovative security products to the best target audience. Solutions to the prevention of terrorist activities lay in simple and effective security measures, the foundation of many CGM products," commented Tony Shupin, CEO of DDSI. CGM is a manufacturer of security products that seal and lock cargo, sea containers and trailers while they are unattended in the supply chain. Control of unattended assets is of paramount importance in moving any company's products or in any country's infrastructure Homeland Security plan.
