

As Recently Seen On CNN, The Q-Switch Laser Available at ViVA Skin Care Center Removes Unwanted Tattoos

ViVA Skin Care Center, Burlington, Mass, announces the addition of the revolutionary Q-switch laser technology to remove tattoos, those unwanted or for those planning to join the U.S. military.

For Immediate Release

BURLINGTON, Mass./EWORLDWIRE/May 31, 2007 --- For those stepping past the typical tattooing age, to discover the body art that appealed to them way back when is not what they want now, ViVA Skin Care Center of Burlington, Mass., is using Q-switch laser technology to remove tattoos. Tattoo pigments and dyes, in multiple colors and various dyes, are broken up by the energy of the Q-Switch laser. After an initial procedure, patients often note tattoos will fade, but it takes between 5 and 15 or more treatments to remove the tattoo. Results are remarkable but treatment takes time. The price of tattoo removal varies depending on the size of the tattoos and the number of treatments required.

About 25 million people in the United States are sporting at least one tattoo, and with the current popularity of body art, over 250,000 men and women per year are being tattooed. The average age of procuring a tattoo is 18 years old, often embellishing the body as a statement of love, anger, sexuality, individuality or as part of a group's identity. As feelings change with time, the tattoo continues to serve as a permanent reminder of what the tattoo symbolized at the time of acquisition.

In addition to its facility for tattoo removal, ViVA Skin Care Center presents a beautiful, full-service, medical-based spa offering a range of laser, microdermabrasion and ultrasound services to remove lines, wrinkles, Rosacea, capillaries, veins, brown spots and sun damage. With ViVA laser hair removal services, the need for constant shaving, waxing, or tweezing is eliminated. Others take advantage of Botox, Restylane, Juvederm, CosmaDerm or CosmaPlast to remove wrinkles and lines in a matter of days. Skin's beauty is revealed with facials, peels or Yonka, Obagi, or B. Kamins cosmeceuticals. Where nutrition and exercise stop, ViVA - the unique one stop for all advanced beauty care - restores outer and inner beauty.
