

YouTube, eBay, Flickr And Twitter Now Obsolete, Says McBidz CEO

For Immediate Release

MOUNT PLEASANT, S.C./EWORLDWIRE/Jan. 27, 2009 --- As the largest mega site on the Internet, McBidz.com ('<http://www.McBidz.com>') prepares to launch its members, called McBidzers are planned to be over 5,000,000 by year's end. In development and testing for over a year now, the site will be ready to launch to the public after its prelaunch promotional tour is completed.

Designed primarily to be a one-stop destination for its members where they can accomplish everything in one place, whether business or personal, McBidz is set to be the largest community-based site on the Internet in a short period of time. While there have been many popular niche sites taking off within the last few years, the Internet has been lacking a community-based model where everything can be accomplished at one Web site without ever having to leave and go someplace else to accomplish all tasks.

McBidz contains activities for video-sharing - "McVidz," Business, Jobs, Wanted, Auctions, Classifieds, Autos, Real Estate, Greeting Cards, Dating, Classmates, Photo Album, and social network "McBidzers." The foundation of the McBidz Web site was designed on the most popular applications in use on the Internet and bringing them together, so McBidz members wouldn't have to go all over and use little niche sites that are now obsolete such as YouTube, eBay, Flickr, and Twitter.

"We can easily see McBidz being the largest community-based Web site on the Internet within three years' time. The Web-based community deserves a Web site like McBidz where they can come together to build relationships while doing business making their online experience more fulfilling," says Charles McCracken, president and CEO of McBidz.

The promotional tour has been named in honor of the McBidz mascot, "Chuckster." The Chuckster Tour will be starting soon to get the word out about the new McBidz up and down the East Coast. A secret guerilla advertising campaign in a major city on the official launch day of the McBidz Web site is also planned.

Current and future McBidzers may explore the inside of the new McBidz before launch day by using the links on the McBidz President/CEO blog located at '<http://www.charlesfmccracken.com>'.
