

Howard Ash To Join Sturge-Weber Board

For Immediate Release

MT. FREEDOM, N.J./EWORLDWIRE/Feb. 27, 2009 --- The Sturge-Weber Foundation (SWF) has appointed Howard Ash of Miami Beach, Fla., to its board of directors.

Howard Ash has 30 years of experience in the financial and marketing arenas. Since 1992, he has served as CEO, COO and CFO to a variety of high profile, international companies. He is currently chairman of the multi-national Claridge Management Group.

The Sturge-Weber Foundation, founded in 1987, is an international organization serving individuals and families affected by Sturge-Weber syndrome and other port wine birthmark conditions with education, research, public information and friendly support.

"Having Howard Ash on the board of directors will provide more leadership for our organizational development," stated Karen L. Ball, president and CEO of the Foundation
