

July 16: Art Show, Superior Room Service and Fabulous Dreams, Presented by Abstract Artist Susan Olmetti, and Eye-wear Sculptors Mercura NYC

Opening reception at 5:30 p.m. in Art Studio 219 at the New York's Hotel Chelsea

Media Advisory

CHICAGO/EWORLDWIRE/June 5, 2009 --- Contemporary abstract artist Susan Olmetti (<http://www.susanolmetti.com>) will feature her newest works, "The Jonah Series," along with an installation of her all-wearable art, in a self-arranged and produced event.

Mercura NYC, founded by exhibitors and sisters Rachel Cohen-Lunning and Merrille Lichenstien-Cohen, join the event with an exquisitely futuristic collection. Unique fantasy jewelry, metal fashions and table-mounted sculptures will be showcased.

Noteworthy celebrations at the show include:

* A special tribute to longtime Hotel Chelsea general manager Stanley Bard by Olmetti, Chelsea residents and hotel staff for his 75th birthday and contributions to the arts.

* The STONEWALL Veterans' Association (S.V.A), a non-profit, volunteer, educational organization for Gay, Lesbian, Bi and Transgender (GLBT) rights worldwide, is celebrating the 40th anniversary of the 1969 Stonewall Rebellion.

* Noted legendary GLBT activist and Stonewall veteran, "King" Storme DeLaverie will make a singing performance of "Stormy Weather" in honor of the Stonewall Rebellion.

The Tappan Z Gallery of New York proudly represents the Jonah Series.
